A TRAGIC DEATH

E. M. McCURE, FORMER RESIDENT OF GLENDALE, RUN DOWN BY AUTO TRUCK

Again are Glendale citizens called upon to mourn the death by an automobile accident of one who for many years was a resident in this city. E. M. McCure, one of the charter members of the Glendale Elks, who will have charge of his funeral.

The following particulars of the accident have been furnished the News, viz.: that on Saturday night, as Mr. McCure was returning to his home at Van Nuys from his work at the San Pedro shipyards, where he has been employed lately, he was struck down by an auto truck at Vernon Junction. He was picked up by a police officer standing not three feet away when the accident occurred, and was hurried to a nearby receiving hospital, where he died immediately without regaining consciousness. The driver of the machine by which he was run down had been driving only two weeks and had lost control of his truck. In his own defense he said he had become confused by the many lights and the street car tracks. The supposition is that Mr. McCure had ridden to Vernon Junction in an auto and was about to take a car there.

An inquest over the remains will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, and it is the present expectation that funeral services will be held at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, which will be conducted by the Elks, as stated.

The deceased leaves a wife, who is principal of the school at Marion, California, and who for many years was principal of the Cerritos avenue school in the Tropic district, where she has many friends. Other members of his family are a married son, Granville McCure, who is also employed in the shipyards, and a daughter, Miss Rachel McCure. Mrs. and Miss McCure are now at the home of Mrs. J. S. McMullin, 1015 West Fifth street, this city.

SURPRISE WEDDING

Friends of Miss Ruth Elaine McGarry of San Francisco, who has been the house guest the past month of her classmate and sorority sister, Miss Marjorie Imler, at Palm Villa, will be surprised to hear of her marriage, which occurred on Saturday at St. John's Episcopal church in Los Angeles. Rev. Harry Gray read the impressive service that made Miss McGarry the bride of William Carl Tesche, a graduate of the University of California and a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity and the Alpha Zeta agricultural honor fraternity, now a member of the naval reserve stationed at San Pedro. The bride was gowned in a pretty, gray traveling suit and was attended by Miss Imler, who wore a handsome tan costume. The groom and his best man, his fraternity brother and chum in the naval reserve, Vincent Duffy, were in uniform.

Mrs. Tesche is a daughter of William Rutledge McGarry, novelist, author and formerly in the U. S. diplomatic service in the capacity of ambassador to Germany and Russia. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tesche of San Jose.

Directly after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Tesche left on a honeymoon trip. The bride will reside in Los Angeles to be near her husband, who is stationed at San Pedro.

PATRIOTISM THE ISSUE

The following extracts from a two-column editorial signed by F. C. Roberts, Editor, are copied from the Long Beach Telegram:

"The Telegram still believes that the imperative necessity of retiring Mr. Randall to private life will impel a sufficient number of electors to swing into line behind the only man whom we honestly believe has a fighting chance to attain that much-desired result, and that man is Montaville Flowers.

"There is but one issue in this Congressional contest and that is patriotism. Many insidious efforts have been made to becloud the issue and inject in the campaign extraneous matter which has no real bearing on the fight. We firmly believe that Mr. Flowers has been grossly misrepresented and that belief in itself should arouse the sympathy of every right-thinking voter in the district.

"His ability is unquestioned and unquestionable. His integrity is unassailable and his patriotism is as radiant as the stars and stripes in Old Glory."

John Hickman of Colorado Springs arrived Saturday and will remain indefinitely with his sisters, Mrs. D. H. Imler and Miss Cora Hickman.

GLENDALIANS FILMED

FIVE HUNDRED GUESTS OF DIANDIO STUDIO WILL APPEAR IN MOVING PICTURE

The Diando Company has asked the Glendale News to express its sincere appreciation of the hearty response by the people of Glendale to its invitation to visit the studio on Verdugo road. Mr. Holloway, who made some estimate of the crowd, says that not less than 500 were present from Glendale and vicinity, of whom about 150 were conveyed to the studio in the Diando autos. Mr. Holloway also says that pictures of the crowd were taken as well as of the balloon and balloonist, and that when Glendale patrons see the picture, as they will later on the screen at the Palace Grand, they will be able to recognize their portraits.

This is one of the most important productions of the Diando Company. Three directors have been engaged upon it, Messrs. Bertram, Ensminger and Holloway, Mr. Bertram being the head director of the story, which is full of thrills of good comedy and the bit of tragedy which occurs in connection with the balloon ascension of Saturday morning. It is called "The Old Maid's Baby," and was written around circus life.

HOUSEWARMING

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts of 703 West Seventh street had a delightful family reunion and housewarming at the new residence in which they have just gotten settled, on Sunday. Their guest list included Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Archer and son Quinton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thielman and two children and Mrs. John Parmenter, all of Long Beach, Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Archer from Pullman, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Archer, Mr. and Mrs. George Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ingalls, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Archer, parents of Mrs. Roberts, Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Archer and son Lyle of Banning. The dinner was served about one o'clock, a beautiful centerpiece of China asters providing table decorations. The afternoon was spent with music and visiting, and the hostess was the recipient of a shower of beautiful gifts for the furnishing of her pretty new home, pictures, embroidery, silver, etc., which came as a complete surprise but which were none the less acceptable.

TO THE VOTERS OF GLENDALE

As the day of the Primary Election draws near there are always the closing words to be said about the candidates whose names appear on the ballot.

The coming session of the California Legislature will be the most important held for years. The first thing is to give full attention to winning the war for Democracy. The next great issue is the ratification of the National Constitutional Amendment for Prohibition and the passing and enforcing of bone-dry laws for California.

In all of our legislation we must have efficiency and sound business methods, but never must humanity be sacrificed for the dollar.

In selecting candidates the voters should not be fooled by pre-election promises. We must send a man whose past life and actions need no apologies on the great progressive humanitarian issues.

We believe that Arthur G. Lindley is the candidate who should receive the support of every man and woman in Glendale because his record and life prove that he will stand for the best interests of womanhood, childhood, the home, the country and the Nation.

Mr. Lindley has been an active, aggressive leader in the prohibition fight in Glendale. He has always given of his time and effort to work for reform measures, even when they were not popular; and the mere claim that candidates are dry, without a past record, is not sufficient and should not be received by voters as conclusive evidence of how they will stand in the stress of the great fight in the Legislature.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

N. B.—Any voter wishing to get to the polls or desiring information, is asked to call Lindley Campaign Headquarters, Glendale 996.

OISE-AISNE BATTLE RESUMED

FRENCH ARE DRIVING NORTHWARD AND EASTWARD IN THE AILETTE SALIENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, August 26.—Reports from the battlefield this afternoon at 4 o'clock showed the battle had been resumed on a large scale between the Oise and the Aisne.

The French are driving northward and eastward in the Ailette salient attempting to shatter the enemy's defenses east of Noyon and west of Coucy-le-Chateau preparatory to a decisive drive toward the Somme.

Strong forces crossed the Ailette outflanking Coucy from the north. The Germans resisted energetically.

The French have passed beyond the Soissons-Chaulnes railway.

WOMAN SHOTS HUSBAND

FRANK P. LEEHAN OF CHICAGO TELL AUTHORITIES WIFE ATTEMPTED HIS LIFE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, August 26.—Frank P. Leehan, president of the American railway bureau of Chicago was shot in the back here early today. He told the police his wife shot him when he threatened to leave her. He said the gun was loaded 42 years ago.

BRITISH REACH OLD HINDENBURG LINE

SUDDEN ATTACK IN ARRAS SECTOR EARLY THIS MORNING IS SUCCESSFUL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, August 26.—The British suddenly attacked in the Arras sector at three o'clock this morning, Field Marshal Haig reported to day.

Reports from the front reaching here at 2 o'clock this afternoon showed they had reached the Wotan section of the old Hindenburg line at Monchy-le-Preux and at Guemappe capturing both of those villages and also Favreuil.

The first few minutes of the attack General Byng's third army moved forward two miles on a four mile front.

The attack was made during a heavy rain.

The British also advanced today astride the Somme and around Maricourt.

GENERAL MANGIN'S ARMY PUSHING FORWARD

LONDON, August 26.—Violent German counter attacks precipitated bloody fighting north of Favreuil today. The Germans lost heavily.

General Mangin's army is pushing forward toward Coucy le-Chateau despite desperate resistance. North of Roye the French have captured Fresnoy-le-Roye. The British later today captured Wancourt and Carnoy and it was reported that they also took Orange Hill.

Good progress was made today at several points in the Arras region.

The British line now extends for a distance of thirty miles between the Scarpe and the Somme rivers.

WAR AND PEACE

LETTER OF PRIVATE STANLEY GORMAN READ AT FAMILY CELEBRATION

Letters are beginning to straggle in from our boys in the Rainbow Division telling of their experiences in the engagements which turned the tide of battle in favor of the Allies and were the beginning of the tremendous successes achieved in the past month. One of the most interesting of these letters received by W. Gorman of Fifth and Louise street from his son Stanley Gorman, of Co. F, 117th California Engineers, 42d Division, was read Saturday at a reunion of the Gorman family to celebrate the birthday of Mr. Gorman's grandchild.

Private Gorman's letter is dated July 27th, and referring to the great battle, in which he and Douglas Balthis of Glendale were together, he says:

"Of course you know it started the morning of the 15th and came on kind of sudden. Although we had been ready for it two or three days, we were all in bed feeling rather gay after a busy 14th of July (The French Independence Day) and this particular night I completely undressed. When the thing started it was a wild rush for equipment and guns, and shells were already dropping too close to be comfortable and orders came to take up our positions, so most of us left everything except guns, gas masks and ammunition. We all thought we would be back again next morning, but sorry to say, we were not. I lost everything I had been saving since coming, pictures, razor, soap, towels, etc.

"We had no sleep for about four days and then when Douglas Balthis and I dropped down between times for a little sleep, some one sounded 'gas.' You know what that means. Finally we went to sleep with our gas masks on. Then to top it all off it seemed as if they were trying to make war on us from the skies for it began to rain, hail, thunder and lightning—the worst I have ever seen. I was wet through in two minutes and no way to get dry. The thunder was worse than the guns and they were terrible. Came out fine, half dressed, sleepy and overworked, but all happy. Everything is normal again for us except that I am minus my personal stuff."

In the letter previous to this Private Gorman stated his company had been marching for six weeks, 4½ days a week and was only stopping to rest up. They had been in action before that and evidently were being moved to another sector.

The Gormans have a number of curios from the battle field which Stanley has sent them. One is a jagged piece of slag from a high explosive shell, which would make a very ugly wound if it struck one. They have also the case of a French 75 shell and a six months' service badge.

W. Gorman has still another son in service, Rev. Frank Gorman, pastor of the Ainsworth (Ohio) Congregational Church, who has enlisted as a Chaplain in the British army. Whether he is here or there his family knows not, as when last they heard from him he was expecting a call daily.

Stanley Gorman enlisted a year ago in July and had scarcely four months' training before being sent to France.

W. Gorman is the father of eight children, six of whom are young men. The four who are not in the army are working side by side with him at the shipyards at San Pedro, where he is the superintendent of woodwork, upholstery and paint. He says that by February they will have the last keel of thirty ships laid, or in a year and eight months from the time they began. Twelve have already been finished. The relief ship, "Accomac," which has just reached France with its big cargo of supplies from this coast, was the first one finished.

In order to be near their work, Mr. Gorman and his sons are living at San Pedro, but their Glendale home is kept ready for them by Miss Gorman and her sister, Mrs. A. D. Lavell, and husband. Saturday they all came home for a family dinner and celebration of the first birthday of little June Jessie Lavell, who was the recipient of many gifts and in whose honor a beautiful birthday cake had been prepared which was centered with a single candle and wreathed with roses and ferns. It was the first time they had all been at home together in several weeks and was a very happy and important occasion.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair except cloudy or foggy along the coast tonight and early tomorrow morning. Westerly winds.

SANITARIUM GARDENS

GEORGE SIDNEY SMITH TELLS OF PROFITABLE VACANT LOT CULTURE

Early in the season the Glendale Sanitarium realized that from the standpoint of personal advantage as well as from a patriotic policy, it behooved the institution to get busy and become a food producer to meet as far as possible its own needs. It therefore took over four lots between Broadway and Fifth street on Adams street which had been planted by a man unable to "carry on" and ever since they have been cared for by George Sidney Smith, the Sanitarium gardener, who figured that the establishment of several new canning factories would absorb most of the vegetable crops of the San Fernando Valley, making it difficult to secure supplies heretofore easily obtainable. From the four lots referred to Mr. Smith gathered 61 lug boxes of potatoes, 85 pounds of lima beans, 20 pounds of string beans and about six pounds of beans which went to seed. After figuring the market value of the products, the initial cost of taking over the garden, the cost of seed, irrigation and Mrs. Smith's labor, the Sanitarium manager and Mr. Smith figured they had made $25 on the transaction and had the advantage of having the vegetables fresh and when they wanted them. Four lots more which corner on Jackson street have been taken over by the institution and planted to squashes and tomatoes, which now promise to return as good a profit. Heretofore the Sanitarium has bought several tons of winter squashes from valley farmers, who might not be able to supply them this year on account of contracts with the canneries.

Mr. Smith has also his own family garden which keeps his personal table well supplied the season through. Fronting the street on one of his lots is a beautiful little plantation of China asters covering a space of about 12x40 feet. Last year Mr. Smith sold from a similar plot between $14 and $15 worth of flowers, or enough to pay for all the irrigation water used on his garden during the season. He says that if flower plantations could be judiciously handled he believes they would be as profitable as any crop that could be grown.

FROM OHIO TO CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ream, formerly of Lima, Ohio, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Forest M. Ream, are newcomers who established themselves and plan to make their home in Glendale for at least two years and maybe for life. On account of Mrs. Ream's delicate health they decided to try a milder climate than that of their Ohio home, so Mr. Ream wrote his boyhood friend, Charles W. Ingledue of this city. As a result of the correspondence the Reams decided to make Glendale their destination and came overland by automobile, covering 3286 miles between Lima and Sacramento, where the family were detained for a week on account of the illness of Mrs. Forest Ream. The elder Ream came on to Glendale, however, and went to work with Mr. Ingledue in the Glendale Market, his family joining him a week ago Saturday. Forest Ream had been in the employ of the Garford Truck Company, which is executing large contracts for the government and is said to be the biggest auto plant in the world. As he too wished to visit California, he wrote to the San Francisco representative of the Garford Truck, who assured him they would be glad to place him, but fearing that the raw climate of the bay city would be too severe for his wife, he too came south and is now connected with the Ford Agency in this city. The Ream family is now located at 456 West Fifth street and all like their new home very much. Mrs. Ream, for whose health they made the change, is feeling fine and thinks she is going to thrive here. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ream have a young lady daughter who will be a student in the high school.

GOES TO GEORGIA CAMP

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby of 104 North Jackson street have received a letter from their son, Dr. Ralph Lusby, written from Angel Island, Fort McDowell, advising them that he and ten other physicians in camp there will leave today for Oglethorpe, Ga., to enter what is pronounced the greatest medical training camp in the United States. Already 24,000 physicians have been sent out from that camp by the government. The doctor writes that he is well and enjoying his work very much.

VICTORY OR DEFEAT

What does the defeat of Germany mean to every American? It means that we are to go on in the freedom we have always lived, a liberty that knows no kings or kaisers, writes Meredith Nicholson of the National Security league. It means that we shall go on living it and loving it and welcoming to its benefits those who prove their right to live the life of freedom. It means that the United States will continue "with malice toward none, with charity for all," lighting the world to liberty, a glorious model, a patient teacher, a wise guide to lovers of democracy throughout the world.

The victory of Germany in this war which the blood crazed kaiser has forced upon civilization would mean the destruction of every ideal that has been the inspiration of the American people. Not so easily have we won freedom that we shall yield meekly to autocracy as it makes its last struggle to trample the world under foot. Ours is a noble heritage and behind America's army of 1918 march Washington's men of '76 and Lincoln's men of '61. Perry and John Paul Jones, Farragut and Porter,—brave admirals all, are on the decks of the ships we send to fight for the freedom of the seas.

Speculation as to what would happen if Germany won this war is futile, for if kaiserism wins we cease to be free men and the right of independent thought and free speech, for which millions in all lands in all ages have sacrificed their lives, would be lost,—a thing to fight for and win all over again.

The world's democracies must triumph or the iron collar of despotism will be riveted upon the necks of the peoples. The issue is written large upon the heavens, government by the people, for the people, or domination by a Frankenstein whose weapon is a bloody mace of iron.—South Pasadena Courier.

WILL EXAMINE TEXT BOOKS

The committee of history experts to examine all textbooks of history for possible German propaganda has been announced by Will C. Wood, Commissioner of Secondary Schools, acting for the State Board of Education. The State Board provided for such a committee at its last meeting.

Those who will make the official examination are Professors H. Morse Stephens, E. I. McCormac and W. A. Morris of the University of California; Professor E. D. Adams of Stanford University, and Superintendent William J. Cooper of the Piedmont Schools. These experts will make a report at the September meeting of the State Board.

Any text containing open or insidious propaganda favoring Germany will be stricken from the official state list of approved textbooks and will have to be discarded by the individual high school using it.

That many schools will anticipate any action by the State Board is shown by the careful examination of textbooks now being carried on generally by the principals and teachers all over California. This examination is being made at the suggestion of the state authorities and will undoubtedly result in many schools discarding offending Modern European and American histories before being ordered to by the State Board of Education. It is charged that a part of the German propaganda has been an unfair treatment of England in texts of United States history.

Similar investigations are going on all over the country, principally at the instigation of the National Committee of Patriotic Societies in Washington. Agents of the Department of Justice have looked over texts in some large eastern cities, notably at Grand Rapids, Michigan, where the text of Modern European history used in the high school has been withdrawn from sale by its publishers, because of alleged pro-German statements.

SHALL THEY PAY THIS PRICE?

A strike in the shipyards at Gray's harbor has been settled by compromise, and the men have returned to their work. Difficulties are smoothed away. But meantime twenty-two men were idle.

When one man lays off one day in the shipyards it means that for an hour and seventeen minutes an American soldier will have to face the machine gun fire of the Huns without ammunition to defend himself. And when one man lays off in the shipyards one day it means three American soldiers will be injured in France and one will give his life.

The soldiers who pay that fearful price are Americans, and worked themselves. They have left jobs in a country where labor is better paid than it has ever been paid, where the rights of labor are recognized as never before in the history of the world, to fight that such a land may exist in freedom.

Is it right that they must pay this price? Is it just that they must be sacrificed for something that can be and has been settled by compromise?—"Over the Top," Standifer Shipyard.

INSURANCE OF HEALTH

The legislature has proposed to the people of California a constitutional amendment which would permit the legislature to establish any kind of a state health insurance which it might desire. The amendment does not propose to provide health insurance for all but only for those of the smallest incomes. Most of, and possibly all, the cost is to be borne by those who are themselves not insured at all.

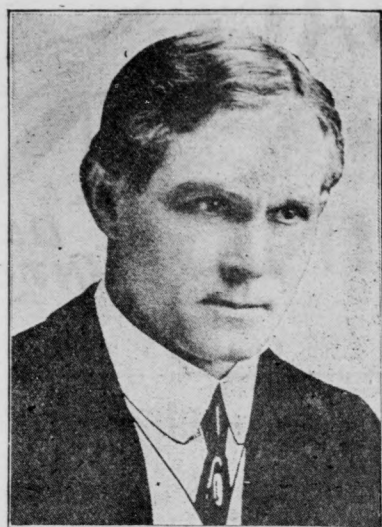

A large amount of sickness is the result of the vicious habits of the individuals concerned. It is preventable by the individuals leading decent lives. Before taking any action whatever, a rational people would inquire how much sickness is the result of bad habits, and whether the sins of those who make themselves sick shall be visited upon them or upon entirely innocent people.

If there is to be health insurance why should it not apply to those who pay as well as to those who do not pay?

This is simply another form of socialism that would saddle a free people with paternalistic control tending more and more to make them wards of the state and mere cogs in the political wheel.

The same measure is being agitated in other states and is simply a part of the organized socialistic propaganda.—The Manufacturer.

FLOWERS A WINNER

From every source comes the report that Montaville Flowers, Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth Congressional District, will get a winning vote at the Primary Election, Tuesday, August 27.

The Evening News recommends Mr. Flowers as a candidate worthy of your support next Tuesday. He is right on the war question, he is right on the temperance question. His qualifications are excellent.

Mr. Flowers is a resident of Monrovia and fellow citizens of that city have addressed the following open letter to the voters of the Ninth Congressional District:

"To the voters of the Ninth Congressional District:

"We, the undersigned residents of the city of Monrovia, desire to certify that Mr. Montaville Flowers and his family have been residents of this city for more than nine years, during which time Mr. Flowers has planted and grown a twenty-acre citrus orchard; that he has firmly established himself in this community as a patriotic, dependable citizen, in whom we have the greatest confidence and highest regard."

John H. Bartle, president of the First National Bank of Monrovia.

Herbert J. Evans, orange grower. Henry Morris, retired merchant. Walter F. Dunn, president of Board of Trustees.

Augustus Adams, cashier the Granite Savings Bank.

C. O. Banks, fruit broker. J. R. Baker, druggist.

A. L. Woodbridge, editor Monrovia Messenger.

C. H. Anson, secretary Monrovia Chamber of Commerce.

K. E. Lawrence, cashier Monrovia Savings Bank.

C. L. Daniels, manager Monrovia Hardware Company.

George A. Barry, editor Monrovia Daily News.

M. J. Conway, shoe merchant. W. G. Barks, jeweler and optometrist.

J. W. Holehan, Gem Market. A. L. Smith, president school board.

C. T. Renaker, merchant. E. D. Northup, president Duarte-Monrovia Fruit Exchange.

W. M. Baird, president National Bank of Monrovia.

J. M. Humphrey, pastor First Methodist Church.

George Lord, pastor First Baptist Church.

"Hello, Sam, in uniform, eh? I thought you were working." I was, sah, but they decided I was in one of dem non-sensical occupations."

BEAN CROP

Bean harvesting is at hand, and during the past ten days bean cutting and bunching has been going on in this section.

In the San Fernando Valley there are some 34,000 acres of beans to be harvested this season, says the San Fernando Valley Press. There are all kinds of beans, including the castor bean, of which about 350 acres were planted.

The leading bean man of San Fernando is T. J. Walker, who has more than 400 acres of beans, all in a very promising condition. Mr. Walker has purchased his own thrashing outfit, a new bean thresher, and expects to keep the outfit busy on his own crop for four or five weeks. The machine has a capacity of 300 bushels of beans a day.

Good yields are estimated, but of course the exact amount can not be told until the threshing begins. However, some growers estimate yields ranging from 10 to 15 sacks per acre. There is one thing certain, there will be some beans harvested in the San Fernando Valley this year, and enough to supply quite an army in itself.

FRANCIS TRUTH, THE MASTER MIND, COMES TO GLENDALE

Scientists and investigators of all sorts have for years tried to ascertain how the noted healer was able to cure the cripple on one of Boston's crowded streets without any visible means so that the boy of twelve threw away his crutches and walked away unaided.

Some said it was done through the healer understanding the use of his mind over matter; some said it must be a divine gift, therefore it was divine healing; then there were others who said: the boy was a cripple, that we know; now he walks; that is enough, and the crowds followed the healer to his home in Boston. He went to Denver. They filled the street in front of the house, many staying all night to be ready for the next day, and so it was in San Francisco, Los Angeles, and even the large cities of Europe were no exception.

Mr. Truth comes to Glendale every week to treat privately. He does not have offices for he could not be there, as his time is devoted to the alleviating of suffering, and his time is never his own.

The healer loves to do good and never turns away from any whom he is convinced he can help sufficiently for the effort.

Mr. Truth's co-workers are everywhere. Those interested to meet Mr. Truth personally may phone Sunset Wilshire 5586 asking for the secretary, who will arrange for a meeting in the near future. Mr. Truth will see any one interested without charge and does not accept gifts for healing unless the case is a curable one through the hidden powers of concentration.

THE MEAT SITUATION
 In the course of a recent conference between the Food Administration and the packers, the fact was brought out that the average weight of cattle this year is thirty pounds lighter than last, 40 pounds lighter than 1916, and 60 pounds under the 1915 average. This is said to be due to the excessive marketing of immature cattle owing to drought conditions. Raisers of live stock are declared to be receiving higher profits than at any time since the Civil War except cattle feeders, who held their stock until late spring. To utilize the cattle which are below 475 pounds in weight, butchers and housewives are being asked by the Food Administration to buy from these lighter cattle.

Personals

W. F. Richardson and daughter, Miss Marion, spent the week end at Hermosa and Redondo.

Samuel Odell, candidate for Congress, advertises that he will deliver an address in the High School auditorium this evening.

Mrs. John H. Ireland of 1311 Milford street is having a new garage built, is beautifying her house with fresh paint, and is making other improvements.

Mrs. S. R. Buchanan and family, who have been camping for five weeks in Santa Monica canyon, have returned to their home at 204 Orange street and are glad to be here.

Captain Eugene Imler of Throop college spent the week end at his home, Palm Villa, having as his guests Sergeant Whitten Davis and Fritz Karge, his classmates and fraternity brothers.

At the meeting at St. James Methodist church, Los Angeles, Sunday morning, at which Governor Stephens occupied the pulpit, Miss Margaret Lusby of this city was a soloist, singing two selections.

Mrs. Florence L. Wintersgill and children, of 111 North Louise, who have been spending two weeks at Hoegee's Camp in the Santa Anita canyon, have just returned to Glendale and report a glorious time.

Twenty-three men who have reached the age of 21 years since June 5th, 1918, were registered by the local Exemption Board last Saturday. The list will be published tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kimball of 1303 Maple street, Mr. and Mrs. Woolsey, also of Glendale, and friends of theirs from Los Angeles are taking a vacation together. They leave today for Catalina and do not know where their inclinations will take them from there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Franklin and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Head and child, motored to San Diego Friday and there spent the week end, taking in Camp Kearny, Coronado, La Jolla and other sights of interest to the visitors. The party returned Sunday night.

Mrs. J. F. Rifenberck of 213 1/2 San Fernando boulevard, entertained with a family dinner party last Thursday evening in honor of her grandson, Lorenzo Rifenberck, who is here from an eastern camp, having been granted a furlough in which to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rifenberck of Compton.

Mrs. I. L. Newberry of Avalon, Catalina, was in Glendale Saturday, the guest of Mrs. Frederick Baker, 109 North Maryland. Mrs. Newberry has a young daughter, Miss Louise, who will enter the Glendale High School at the opening of the fall term and Mrs. Newberry is looking for a location in Glendale for the next four years.

Dr. C. Stuart Steelman reports that his brother, Albert Steelman, the efficient driver of the fire truck at Brand and Los Feliz station, has been disappointed in his efforts to get into the Tank Corps and is now trying for another branch of the service. He was rejected because of having undergone an operation for appendicitis. The doctor declares his skill at fire engine work is inherited, that it runs in the family, because his father and grandfather were firemen before him.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Holland of 1309 Arden avenue entertained for the week end their nephew, Scott Holland, who is in the Naval Reserve at San Pedro. Sunday afternoon, in honor of the guest, Mr. and Mrs. Holland, Mrs. McSpadden and little daughter, of Arden avenue, and Miss Dorothy Keyser of Covina, house guest of Mrs. McSpadden, had a picnic lunch at Griffith Park. Robert Holland was not able to be with them as he was a guest at a beach party at Santa Monica given by his chums, the Butts boys.

GLENDAL CANDIDATES INDORSED AT GARVANZA

The Church Brotherhoods of Garvanza met last Friday evening at the Garvanza Congregational church, which had the various candidates come before them for ten-minute addresses. Only indorsed candidates were invited to be there and Glendale was honored by having three of its citizens indorsed for the Assembly, viz., Dr. Jessie A. Russell, John Robert White, and Arthur G. Lindley, no one of them being specially selected but all were approved for the office. The general public was invited to this meeting and many ladies were present as well as the men. The report of this meeting in the Saturday Evening Glendale News failed to state that all three candidates were indorsed and not just the one referred to in that article.

WHY MONTAVILLE FLOWERS FOR CONGRESS

By J. C. Sherer

By Republicans at the Primary, because he is worthy and highly qualified and has all the essentials of availability to represent the party.

By citizens generally when nominated, because of all the candidates in the field he conspicuously has the elements which promise to develop a statesman who will reflect the greatest credit upon Southern California. In this connection it may be stated as an historical fact that within the knowledge of the writer for the past thirty or forty years we have been sending to Congress men of mediocre ability who in no single instance have in the eyes of the people of the other states of the Union reflected any credit upon our section. This is no reflection upon their private character, but any one who represents in the congress of the United States the rich and intelligent Ninth district of California, should stand intellectually at least a few inches above the average citizen.

The smallness of some of the would-be candidates opposed to Mr. Flowers in his own party is shown by the fact that while originally they all began their campaigns by expressing their opposition to our present representative, they have now with one consent turned their guns upon Mr. Flowers, simply because he had the temerity to get into the race and get support away from themselves.

One of these candidates has secured a statement from an anonymous "Ministerial Association" somewhere (for as published it is neither dated nor signed) denouncing Mr. Flowers for his attitude on the Japanese question several years ago, when he opposed, as did nearly all the citizens of California, the unrestricted immigration of Japanese. As a matter of fact, he has not had any occasion to refer to the subject since Japan became our valued ally in winning the war, or if he did so it was in terms similar to those used in referring to our other allies in the numberless patriotic addresses he has delivered since America entered the conflict. He is the one man chiefly instrumental in securing the attendance of nearly two hundred delegates representing the Chautauqua and other lecturing circuits over the United States and Canada, and which resulted in their bending all their activities during the war to arousing the spirit of the people in support of their government in this great contest.

He is a consistent advocate of Prohibition and is on record upon that subject before the Chautauqua lecturers in 1911 and had advocated it for many years previously.

He has a large property interest in Southern California, where his family has resided (in Monrovia) for eight or nine years past.

He is an eloquent orator. He has the mind of a student, developed by years of study and contact with scholars, statesmen and men of affairs. His profession has required that he become familiar with matters of diplomacy and international law.

He is backed by such men as Newell Dwight Hillis, John Lewis Baer and has letters from influential members of Congress asking him to get into the race for Congress with the assurance that he will be able to start there at a place not usually attained by any congressman during his first or even second term.

Finally, the next Congress of the United States, being one of tremendous importance, will be no fit place for any but our best and most representative men; men of limited mental character and the men of one idea, except the one of winning the war and upon its conclusion shaping our legislation so as to assure us the fruits of victory, should not be in the great legislative body of the nation.

Nominate Flowers at the Primary and then vote for him at the general election.
 Glendale, Aug. 26th, 1918.

DINNER AND DANCE FOR CARRIE STONE

In compliment to Miss Carrie Stone whose approaching marriage has been announced, she was made the special guest at a dinner and dance given in her honor by a group of her girl friends Saturday evening at Casa Verdugo. The list of hostesses included Marjorie Imler, Evangeline Hunchberger, Waunita Emery, Margaret Boucher, Katherine Renshaw, Esther Shremp, and Catherine Phillips. Young men from the Naval Reserve at San Pedro who are well known here, were likewise guests, viz., Messrs. Phillips, Biddle, Miller, Stewart, McDuffee and Smith, also Messrs. Imler and Davis of Throop College. The evening was devoted to dancing and the young people had a delightful party.

ELECTION LUNCH

Mrs. Jack Boettner, Chairman of the Red Cross Shop, reports that on account of election, which will bring out many people, the Red Cross luncheon which is usually served at mid-day on Thursday will take place Tuesday at noon at the shop at 318 South Brand boulevard.

In this connection friends of the shop may be interested to know that stocks there are running low and any one who has articles of any sort likely to be salable which they can spare, will be welcomed. This little shop has made considerable money for the Red Cross Chapter and can continue to make money if its friends will organize a rummage campaign and renew the stocks.

RED CROSS EVENTS

Sept. 20 and 21—Community Harvest Festival.

Persons planning Red Cross entertainments are requested to have dates reserved by telephoning Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, chairman of Bureau of Entertainments, Glendale 918-J.

TO THE VOTERS OF GLENDAL

Tomorrow you will vote for Congressman for this district. After first winning the war, the greatest problem confronting the district is flood control. I wish to impress upon you that the cost of permanently and effectually controlling these floods is a burden too great for the taxpayers of this district to take upon themselves. It is the unquestionable duty of the United States government to aid them materially in the conservation and storage of floods in the mountains.

The $4,450,000 flood bonds which this district voted, because of changed conditions will not do much more work than $2,000,000 would have done when they were voted.

I can do much more good for flood control and conservation in Congress than I could here in the district as Chief Engineer. For four years I have been compiling national and foreign data relative to floods and flood control and I know I am better equipped to do you a great service in Congress than any other candidate.

For four years you have been observing my work and my conduct. No hours have been too long, no Saturday afternoons or holidays too precious to give to your work.

I am asking you and all other friends who have aided me in flood control matters and in the carrying of our bond elections, to give me your vote tomorrow. I do not think there is a voter in the district who will question my ability to put things through when I attempt to do so. It was very easy for me to get from the State Legislature $250,000, which was part of the promised $1,000,000 from the State to the Flood Control District, nor was it difficult for me to go to Washington and secure the release of $2,250,000 of our bonds after other prominent men had failed; and it must be that I know how to do things.

Should you nominate me tomorrow and subsequently elect me to Congress, I will promise you that you will be pleased with the work I can and will do for you.

JAMES W. REAGAN,
 Chief Engineer Los Angeles County Flood Control District.

WAR HERALDS END OF WORLD

SANTA ANA, August 26.—The Seventh-day Adventists' annual camping meeting and biennial conference closed here last night. Missionaries from the heart of Africa, the interior of China and from South America have been present, besides leading dignitaries of the Seventh-day Adventist church from various parts of the country. Plans have been laid for advance strides in church work during the coming biennial period, officers elected for two years, and credentials and licenses issued to ministers and conference laborers. Governor Stephens spoke in the large tent at the encampment Friday afternoon, and declared himself unequivocally and unreservedly in favor of national prohibition, saying that the winning of the war demands that no more grain of any kind be manufactured into intoxicating liquor.

The great war, in which 15-16 of the population of the globe is engaged is an omen, a herald of the approaching end of the world and of the literal, personal, visible coming of Christ in the glory clouds of heaven to gather the world's great human harvest, according to Elder Arthur G. Daniells, of Washington, D. C., president of the World Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists, who spoke in the mammoth canvas tabernacle on the campground. He laid special emphasis upon Matthew 24:7, 14, which predicts war and trouble near the end of the world's history, and that missionary operations would extend to the entire world.

President Daniells declared that the doctrines of Seventh-day Adventists have for 75 years been subjected to the severest test which could be imposed, and yet have never during all these years been successfully contradicted.

Mr. Daniells says that many years ago, when preachers, pacifists and leaders in the world's thought were reiterating constantly that there never could be another great war, that the nations were too civilized to fight, and that the great war preparations would make men afraid to go to battle—in spite of this peace cry, he said, Seventh-day Adventists never ceased to warn the world of a great impending struggle, which would increase in intensity until the battle of Armageddon, the last great armed conflict of the world's history. Seventh-day Adventists based their faith upon the Bible, he said.

With the fifteen thousand member mark reached, the Automobile Club of Southern California is now more than twice the size of any similar organization in the world and offers the most complete service to motorists that can be secured. With a branch office and information bureau system that covers all of Southern California and a signposting and map system, that penetrates far into the east, the club's activities have really become of national interest.

As a People
 we have been plentifully preached to about thrift. To some the subject has been an intangible subject with possible benefits arriving at old age, while others have seen in it immediate opportunities and have prospered rapidly. Now comes the time, however, when it is more than wise for every American citizen to be thrifty, to lay aside something from his income for that day that is coming. Then if it be one of prosperity, we will be able to take advantage of it. If it be one of stagnation we will be able to live through it. If it be one of bitter competition, we will be better able to withstand it.

REPUBLICANS!

HERE ARE THE FIVE

Congressional Candidates

Duty Demands That You Read This Analysis

The race for Congress has narrowed down to two candidates—Montaville Flowers, a straight Republican patriot, and Charles H. Randall, one of the most outspoken pacifists in all America.

Montaville Flowers

Is the only candidate who has covered the immense district. He is strong, not simply in spots, but everywhere. Every important republican newspaper is supporting him. He has occupied dozens of church pulpits, received the endorsement of scores of ministers and more than 3,500 people gathered at one service to hear him. Out on the farms, as well as in city homes, the one name that everybody knows, the one man whom everybody has heard, seen and read of, is Montaville Flowers.

He is picked as the winner. Everybody is talking it. This fact alone is tremendously important. Flowers, and only Flowers, can save the day.

Your vote cannot help Odell, cannot help Mushet, cannot help Reagan. But these votes can kill republican chances. You have one duty to perform—defeat pacifist Randall. Victory can come only through absolute unity of action. Vote for Flowers.

Charles H. Randall

He voted against the war. He voted against the conscription act. He voted against all five preparedness measures. The "National Security League," composed of men like Root, Parker, Roosevelt, Taft, Hart, Pepper, Matthews, —500,000 members, all parties, organized for the purpose of examining the war records of congressmen, reveals the fact that out of 435 men in congress only 8 men in this whole vast law-making body had a worse record than the representative from this district, the Hon. Charles H. Randall.

Is this a "Pacifist" district?

The nation is waiting for the verdict. Of late years California has unjustly received several black credits in the nation's eyes. Millions of people, contemplating moving here, are waiting for this crucial decision—are we patriots or pacifists? Pro-Germans or Americans?

Tomorrow—election day—we give the answer. A house divided against itself shall fall. Is the republican house divided? Stand firm in the ranks and fight for the only possible winner—Montaville Flowers.

His chief weakness is the fact that he is relatively unknown outside his own city. Moreover he has turned republicans against him by his "bickering" attitude toward other republican candidates.

He tried to drive a wedge between the "drys" thereby weakening the great cause of Prohibition. The Anti-Saloon League refused to endorse him. He then attempted to split republicans by unfair attacks on the leading republican candidate, Mr. Flowers.

We are waging a frightful war to maintain moral principles. Our congressmen should be selected for their fitness to deal with great issues of justice, fairness and right.

A patriotic man with a good republican record. But his "wet" association absolutely destroys his chances in the Ninth District which is overwhelmingly "dry."

Whether you are "wet" or "dry," whether you are a personal friend of Mushet's or not, you have a duty that transcends any other—to elect a republican patriot and defeat Randall.

Every republican vote taken away from Flowers is a boost for Randall. No loyal republican can waver in his duty.

J. W. REAGAN

He is a good engineer and is now in the middle of a big job—flood control. He pledged his best efforts in seeking this appointment and the State of California spent a fortune educating him with the mass of data necessary for the work. Would it not be worse than foolish to pull a man off a half-completed job for which he is fitted and put him in a new job—national law-making—for which he has no training, qualifications or experience?

Executive Committee, Republican Patriots Association

SUNLAND

The Cleveland Motor Cycle Company gave a picnic to their employees Sunday in the Monte Vista Park. About 150 attended. They all seemed to have a good time. One of the directors said, "Sunland is surely the place to bring a crowd for a picnic."

Mr. Horton is putting up a neat tent on his place on Summit avenue. He is preparing a tent colony for those who wish to rent for a short time and enjoy the lovely climate and mountain water of Sunland.

A. Adams and Mr. Fisher spent the day Wednesday at El Monte inspecting the machinery in the cannery there. Mr. Adams expects to have his cannery running in a week for canning the large crop of tomatoes raised in the valley.

Mrs. Reed of Pasadena has rented the house of Alfred Blumfield and will move here the first of the week.

Miss Esther Nicholson entertained a few of her friends at her home on Friday evening in honor of Miss Gertrude Schroeder of Anaheim, who is visiting her this week. A pleasant time is reported. Light refreshments were served.

Some careless car driver ran his car into the Park fence and broke one panel of the fence. It seems as if the highway was wide enough to avoid such accidents. It looks like pure carelessness.

The early peaches are being rapidly taken to market by our truck men, Mr. Richardson and Mr. Freeman, who are working night and day. The peaches raised in this valley are among the finest in the state and nothing can compare with the famous mountain clings which will be ripe in about six weeks.

Remember the primary election August 27. Polling place for the Sunland precinct, the store at the corner of Central avenue and Flower street.

Vessels sailing from New York in June were cut more than 25 per cent in their sugar requisitions, to conform to the Food Administration ration.

The commissioner of supply in Spain has issued a circular ordering that the 1918 crops of barley, oats, rye, and wheat must not be removed from the fields without authorization by agents specially appointed for the purpose by the town councils.

HEROES ELSEWHERE

It appears that the heroes, even the American brand, are not all on this side of the water. Witness the case of the Missouri rural mail carrier.

He had a letter from a soldier in France to a girl in Missouri. Being a rural carrier, he knew every romance on his route by heart, and he knew, therefore, that that girl was waiting for that letter.

So he set out to deliver it. A hailstorm came up and punched 97 holes in the roof of his wagon; a bolt of lightning half paralyzed his horse. But he got the letter through.

And speaking of Missouri and heroes, it is altogether fitting to mention the small boys of Jackson, in that State, who have plowed up their baseball park and planted it to corn. —Stars and Stripes.

Because of the popularity of basketball in France the Y. M. C. A. was compelled to send 7200 basketballs in one order to the soldiers over there.

DR. JESSIE A. RUSSELL FOR THE LEGISLATURE

Editor Glendale News:

"What is the matter with the people of California?" asked a prominent Eastern woman of the writer. "I have met so many capable women while here and with the ballot so many years, why don't you send women to the Legislature, we Eastern women are asking the question, why?"

The need of the Mother influence and power in every legislature is great. The business father legislators are so busy with the finances that they have scant time or thought for moral laws so vital to humanity. Never in the history of California because of reconstruction, was the women's voice, influence and vote so needed in our legislature to protect the moral laws we now have; enact those needed; and to ward off the measure that may be introduced that would, if passed, destroy the best interests of the home. All legislators should be carefully chosen, not only because they will promise to vote right, but added to that there must be other qualifications; to properly comprehend and draft laws a legislator should have a very comprehensive legal knowledge, together with broad legislative experience. Dr. Russell is the candidate who meets these and other requirements.

The 61st Assembly District will not only bring honor to its constituency, but to California and the Nation by sending Dr. Jessie A. Russell to our next assembly. A capable mother-hearted woman who meets the needs and requirements, a woman fair-minded, broad in experience and outlook, quick and wise in decision, one who will not only vote right but will ever be on the alert to check unrighteous legislation—a good fighter for any cause.

A life-long advocate of Prohibition, Dr. Russell has taken an active part in all campaigns along that line, having averaged from nine to twenty-one speaking engagements a day, during our campaign of a few years ago. She has of course been endorsed by the Prohibition Ratification Committee of the United Dry Forces.

As a lobbyist for laws affecting the people as a whole for several sessions of the Legislature, I have long realized the grave need of such women in our legislative halls. Glendale has an opportunity to send a representative who has a state-wide reputation as a clear, logical thinker and speaker, one who will not only have a vote, but a state-wide influence upon important legislation.

The Primary is THE important election. I most earnestly hope that your city will give Dr. Jessie A. Russell a large vote on August 27th.

Sincerely,

HESTER T. GRIFFITH,
Los Angeles.

A TRIBUTE TO DR. JESSIE A. RUSSELL

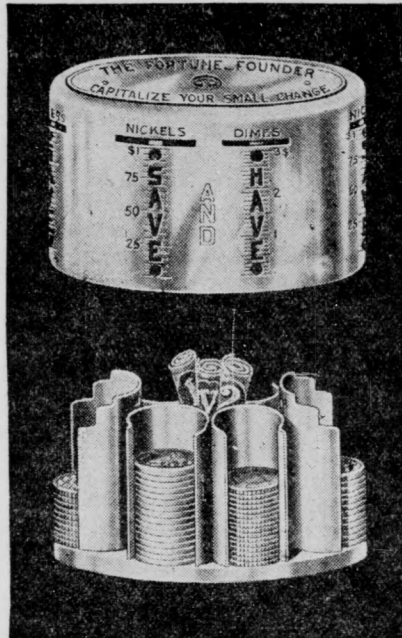

I have known Dr. Jessie Russell for the last 8 or 10 years. I have never known her to swerve from the lines of true womanliness. I have often wondered would she meet the world of active aggressiveness, was it possible that she could work in it and still keep that which is so likable in a woman: gentleness, dignity and that fine, sensible sensitiveness.

During my association with her in this our campaign to place her in an office of honor, a law-making department of our great state, I have listened to her in personal conversation. I have sat in her home and listened to her phone answers to would-be converters to this or that theory, project or hobby; if any of them met her views of the greatest good to the greatest number all was well, but if there was even a glint that might curtail this greatest good no pressure that the would-be converter could bring to bear swerved her from her self-informed and adopted line of duty; and she always seems informed on every vital subject to a surprising degree.

Always, through all this, that fine, womanly, sensible sensitiveness and dignity so likable in a woman, seemed to have chosen her words and directed her thoughts. Her "Positively no" means, when spoken by her, exactly what it says. No one would think of trying to overstep it.

One who associates with Dr. Russell enough to know her learns to love her and admire her, and they can not but feel that back of all that is apparent to the eye and ear is an uplifting power that is well poised and well developed and developing, always, to a greater and greater degree. One can not but see that she is unusually well fitted to help make the laws that govern men, women and children, and that she will act with dignity, fine intelligence and unswerving bravery.

During the prohibition campaign, three or four years ago, when those two troublesome amendments were up for adoption by the people, troublesome because they were so hard to understand, I know that for the last 14 days of that campaign Dr. Russell spoke from 9 to 21 times daily explaining them. How did she do it? How did she stand the strain?

Well, she just did, and still was well and full of "pep." She did it as she has helped carry on this, our campaign to put her in a law-making department of our legislative assembly.

By electing Dr. Russell to the assembly we will elect a woman whose eyes sparkle when she speaks of her son; a woman who regards too deeply the love of her husband and the honor of womanhood to do one unwomanly act, and a woman who is honoring us to be willing to run for an office that requires the principles we want effective in that office.

AMERICAN PRISONERS

In a recent reply to the questions of newspaper correspondents, General March said, relative to the treatment of American prisoners by Germany:

"We get information about the treatment of American prisoners of war in Germany officially from the Spanish Embassy, which represents us at Berlin. No testimony has been received by us that American prisoners of war have been singled out for any treatment different from what all the rest get. We are now about to embark upon a convention with Germany about the whole matter of prisoners of war, which will be held in Switzerland, and any question about their treatment of our prisoners and our treatment of theirs will be thrashed out. We even have their menus. The Spanish representatives drop in on these camps unannounced and find out exactly what they have to eat, and we receive that information."

Every day is not too often to write a letter to your soldier boy overseas, asserts Dr. Robert Freeman, Y. M. C. A. war worker who has just returned from the war zone.
